Kansas City Ballet 2018-2019 Season Calendar of Events

World Premiere Septime Webre's The Wizard of Oz,
Kansas City Premiere Val Caniparoli's
Lady of the Camellias, and Tharp / Parsons / Forsythe
Plus return of The Nutcracker and New Moves

KANSAS CITY, MO (Aug. 20, 2018) —Kansas City Ballet Artistic Director Devon Carney announced the Company's 2018-2019 season which opens with the WORLD PREMIERE of Septime Webre's The Wizard of Oz, continues with the KANSAS CITY PREMIERE of Val Caniparoli's Lady of the Camellias, and closes with the contemporary mixed repertoire of three celebrated American choreographers Tharp / Parsons / Forsythe. The season also includes the annual return of The Nutcracker and New Moves. High res photos of the productions, costumes, artists and creative teams can be found here.

Single tickets are now available to the public. Tickets for The Nutcracker will be available to the public on Monday, Aug. 27 at 6 a.m. Purchase tickets online at kcballet.org or through the Kansas City Ballet ticket office 816.931.8993 beginning at 9 a.m. As a benefit, those who subscribe to the 2018-2019 season are able to buy additional tickets to all shows at a discount now.

Devon Carney said: "To open our 2018-2019 season, we will transport our audiences to new heights, as we journey to the magical world of The Wizard of Oz. Join us for this world premiere production choreographed by Septime Webre, creator of the huge 2014 hit Alice (in wonderland), with all new sets, costumes and even a newly commissioned score. Heading down that yellow brick road will certainly bring with it exciting and wonderful adventures for the entire family.”

“This production of The Wizard of Oz is noteworthy in the sense that it’s a partnership between colleagues - three of North America’s respected professional ballet companies, Kansas City Ballet, Colorado Ballet and Canada’s Royal Winnipeg Ballet,” Kansas City Ballet Executive Director Jeffrey J. Bentley said. “We share equally in the cost of making the production (which is in excess of $1,000,000) but the arrangement allows 100% of the box office revenue in each of our communities to be retained by the home company. It may well become the wave of the future since not-for-profit arts organizations are always looking to reduce costs while adding to the audience experience.”

In addition to The Wizard of Oz, Kansas City Ballet’s season includes works for the company from proven choreographers.

“Even as I accepted my appointment as Artistic Director for Kansas City Ballet five years ago, I envisioned our company would someday be positioned to perform Val Caniparoli’s milestone full-length creation Lady of the Camellias,” Carney said. “I am thrilled to present this highly dramatic and tragic tale of Marguerite, a famous courtesan, and Armand, a young countryman, as they become entangled in a forbidden affair ultimately facing heartbreak and loss. Caniparoli’s rendition remains widely popular today among many highly respected ballet companies. The choreography demands a physical technicality and profound artistry from the dancers to express the breadth of emotion in this compelling story. Based on the 19th Century novel La Dame aux Camellias, this story has inspired many screen and stage adaptations including the film Camille, with Greta Garbo, the opera La Traviata and the highly popular film Moulin Rouge!. This balletic stage adaptation stands as an equally formidable telling of this world-renowned story.”

The Wizard of Oz and Lady of the Camellias will be accompanied by the Kansas City Symphony, conducted by Kansas City Ballet Music Director Ramona Pansegrau.

Armand, a young countryman meets the ravishing courtesan Marguerite in a chance meeting that leads to a passionate, but doomed love.
